

ORI Senior Advisor

William E. Wetzel

Mr. Wetzel is currently the Director of Intelligence Programs for Zel Technologies where he provides management over Human Intelligence (HUMINT) and Measurement & Signature Intelligence (MASINT) programs and Technical Collections activities for the Department of Defense. He has over 30 years experience in Military Intelligence at the tactical, theater, national, and international levels. Mr. Wetzel also served on active-duty assignments in the Defense Intelligence Agency, including service as the Chief of the Office of European Operations in the Defense HUMINT Service. He also served as a Defense Attaché in Finland. He is fluent in German, Russian, and Finnish. Mr. Wetzel received his B.A. in English and German from the Ohio University in 1969. He received an M.A. in Law Enforcement Administration from Sam Houston State University and an M.A. in International Relations from the University of Southern California. Mr. Wetzel served over 28 years in the U.S. Army, retiring as a Colonel in 1997.